County Fair To Be Held Here In 1954

Hancock County will have its own fair and livestock show in 1954.

Alfred Wittorf, president of the Hancock County Livestock Association, told a general meeting at the Coast Electric building here Wednesday that the county would get its show if it fulfilled specific requirements.

To obtain money from the state parent organization for premiums, Wittorf said, the county group would have to submit to the state group before June 30 a list of all prizes totaling not less than $500. The state group would match this in its first year with $100.

In the following years the state group would match half the premiums.

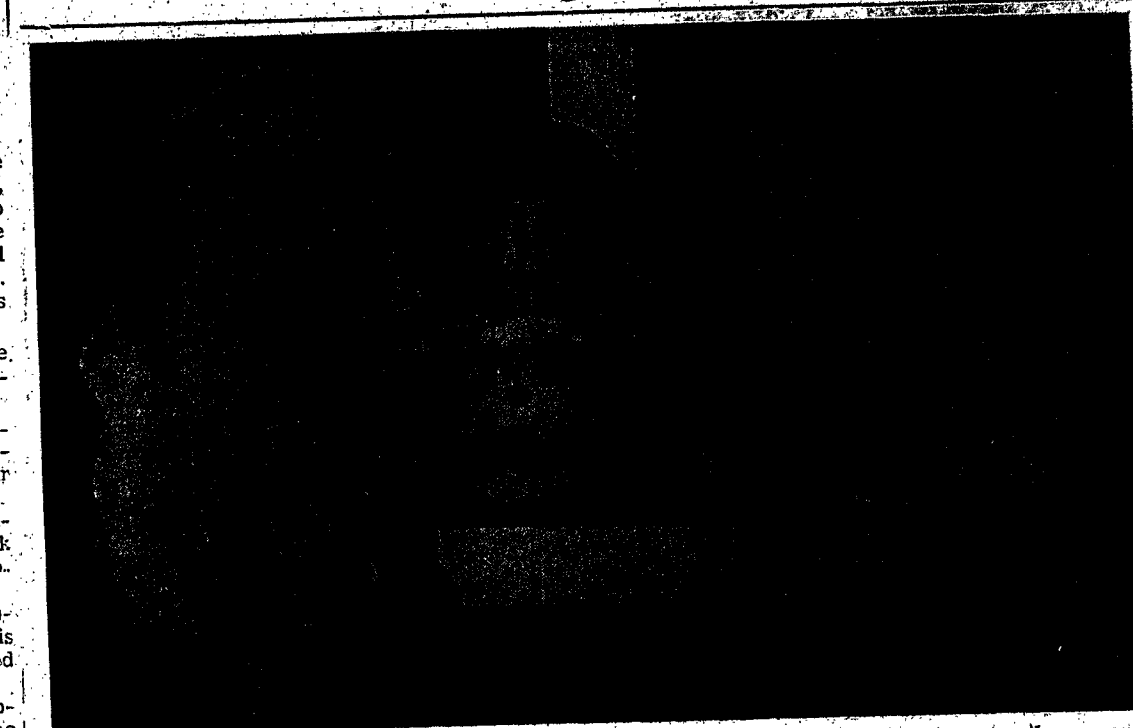

Those at the meeting last Wednesday showed interest in establishing a curb market by the fair grounds. It was also suggested that the curb market be established by the highway to give truck growers an outlet for their produce.

The possibility of obtaining timber from the old Bay of St. Louis bridge which is being demolished now was discussed.

A committee of eight was appointed at the conclusion of the meeting to look into the possible locations for the fair grounds. A report is expected to be returned to the county association in two or three weeks.

Officers of the county association are: Wittorf, Frank Keller, vice president; and Howard Simmons, secretary.

A full Pass Christian police officer as the killer of a woman in Orleans hotel.

Latest reports of a fugitive was surrounded and one half mile from the Louisville and Nashville road trucks.

Pass Christian Police Officer identified as Leo Boone from a railroad car on Monday morning. Finhold said he was seeing the man and called in highway patrolmen for block.

Boone is wanted by New Orleans police for murdering Mrs. Dorothy Disen in a New Orleans hotel. He has a criminal record and a number of aliases.

Finhold said he was seeing some road equipment on the morning at 420 S. Main St. Louisville and Nashville freight train was forced to stop at Pass Christian because of a box.

Finhold said he was seeing the man on the cars while he was jumping the equipment.

Suddenly, Finhold said, a man jumped out from between two cars and ran across the tracks. New Orleans police had been in the area earlier this week when it was discovered that a man fitting Boone's description was seen in Biloxi receiving treatment for a cut hand.

It was speculated that Boone grew suspicious that his movements in Biloxi were known and tried to double back to New Orleans to elude the dragnet.

Finhold said the man jumped out on the depot side of the tracks. The police had to take several shots to follow him since the cars were blocking the crossing.

The fugitive was then seen running between the Pass Christian Tarpon-Bacon building and the Methodist church. Later he was seen on the Beach St. by James Washington, a colored man from Gulfport.

Washington said he saw Boone near the Standard Oil Station on the beach. The man was watching him and showed down to running walk.

Washington described the man as wearing a khaki shirt, khaki pants and a hat. He had a slight limp and was crying a small pack.

Joining in the hunt with Finhold was Highway Patrolman Walter King. The highway patrolman attempted a road block and obtained a tip from Leroy Jones, who was riding on a Greyhound bus.

James said he saw a man fitting the description given by Washington on the old highway roadblock.

The fugitive was also reported seen on Second and Woodman streets by a woman named Bates. She said she saw a man dressed in khaki running through a yard owned by Melvin Gariga.

Meanwhile deputy sheriff Sam Peterson of Hancock County said his men were alerted and hunting the criminal in case he had crossed the Bay of St. Louis.

Mechanic Must Undergo Eye Operation

A Gulfport mechanic working in Bay St. Louis will have an eye operation today when it was discovered that a piece of steel was lodged there after an accident several days ago.

The mechanic, Otis L. Miles, of Gulfport, was working at Gilmore's Garage on Uman Ave. when the accident occurred.

According to J. C. Roland, an executive at Gilmore's, Miles was working on a puncher when the steel flew into his eye last Friday.

Miles was rushed to Gulfport where he underwent an eye examination at the McWilliams Clinic. He was dismissed soon after.

Miles' eye, however, continued to bother him.

Thursday he was rushed to New Orleans for a special X-ray. The X-ray revealed the steel was still in his eye and could cause a great deal of trouble.

From New Orleans Miles was taken back to Gulfport. He is now in Memorial Hospital pending his operation today.

According to Roland, Miles had been working at Gilmore's only a few weeks.

SUPERVISORS, CITY SIGN CONTRACT TO HAVE PROPERTY ASSESSED

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors and the City of Bay St. Louis signed a joint contract this week with the Atlanta firm to assess all property in the county and city for taxing purposes.

But it wasn't easy. Most of the details had been worked out before Monday, when the formal contracts were signed.

George G. Ehrenborg, who was making the survey, was there, as were city officials and photographers.

President Johnson saw explained the plan briefly, and asked for a motion to adopt the contract.

"I move we adopt it," said Supervisor Joe Jones.

"Any seconds?" asked Mr. Shaw. Dead silence.

"I didn't know there were any objections," Mr. Shaw said. "We discussed this in detail before."

"I withdraw the motion," said Mr. Jones. "I thought we had agreed on this."

It developed there were objections from two sides.

Supervisor Manny Hubbard objected of one clause in particular. It said the board could appoint a committee to meet with Mr. Ehrenborg and recommend that he change his figures on any given piece of land.

"I think we ought to accept the man's whole report or none of it," Mr. Hubbard said.

But he withdrew his objections when it was explained that Mr. Ehrenborg could reject the recommendation of the board—and that, in turn, the board could reject Mr. Ehrenborg's whole report or any part of it. "It's just a guide for you," Clerk A. C. Mitchell explained.

Supervisor Jack Lott wasn't sure he favored the whole idea. "It might mean that taxes would rise too much, he pointed out."

But it was explained to him that taxes might even be cut. Mr. Ehrenborg told tales of many such surveys where he found chunks of property never before on the tax rolls. When the money was collected for them, everyone else's taxes went down.

So, after the explanation, Mr. Shaw asked again: "Any objections?"

There were none, and the contract was signed.

Everyone—especially Mr. Ehrenborg—breathed a sigh of relief.

K. S. Foster Dies Suddenly

Funeral services for Kinney S. Foster, 75, who died suddenly Sunday night, were held here Tuesday at the Plaza Funeral Home.

Foster was found dead by Constable Nolan Kingston and city policeman Pat Garcia after the pair had received a phone call Monday night from New Orleans from Mrs. Frank O. Higgins, Foster's daughter.

Mrs. Higgins called to say that Foster had left Sunday from New Orleans to pick up some clothes. He was to return the same day, she said, but he did not come back.

Kingston and Garcia investigated and found Foster dead. A jury composed of Arthur Garcia, L. P. Caplepon, James W. Burge, Dupre LaPoint, Jack W. Mitchell and Henry Kothman, was summoned. A verdict of death by natural causes was given. Kingston served as balliff.

Mr. Kinney, who had been a resident of Bay St. Louis approximately a year and a half, was well known in New Orleans and Yazoo City civic organizations. He had served as secretary to the New Orleans Association of Commerce from 1930 until 1936 when he moved to Yazoo City where he became associated with the Chamber of Commerce.

BOTTOM'S UP!—St. Stanislaus tacklers upend a Reserve ball carrier in the homecoming game Sunday. But Stanislaus lost nevertheless.

Reserve Whips St. Stanislaus

St. Stanislaus has an open date this week, but the Rockchaws feel they deserve it after last week's bruising loss to the Reserve Wildcats, 14-0.

The homecoming loss, however, was nothing to be ashamed of. Stanislaus was facing one of the toughest teams in Louisiana which was sporting a 5-1 record.

Gerald Clement of Reserve was the star of the game. Scoring twice, once on a 75 yard run and again on a 55 yard jaunt, Clement was a threat to Stanislaus the whole afternoon. Both scores came in the first half.

The Rocks lost more than a football game. A. J. Burke, a standout in the backfield, was injured and will be out of play the rest of the season. This brings the Stanislaus casualty list up to seven of their starting men.

Stanislaus was able to get within the Reserve 20 yard line twice, but was never able to make a

Demons Meet Bay High Here Tonight

Bay High will try to make it two in a row when they meet the Demonstration Demons from Hattiesburg here tonight at 8 p. m. in Stanislaus Stadium.

The Tigers, in about their best shape all year, upset Lumberton last week 7-6. The Bay High tally came minutes after the opening kickoff when Ronnie Landers raced off tackle for 25 yards. Hugo Favre plunged over center for the tally. The Reserve line one time was forced to tighten on their eight yard stripe.

The Rockchaw defense turned in a sharp, hard playing game in holding the Reserve team to two touchdowns.

Stanislaus will hold off a week and then meet the Biloxi Indians at Biloxi, Nov. 7.

Water Fowl Season Dates Announced

Mississippi waterfowl seasons, which will extend 55 days, November 17, 1953 through January 10, 1954, have been set by Secretary of Interior, Douglas McKay. The dates were selected by the Commission from the span offered by the Fish and Wildlife Service and these dates have now been confirmed. The seasons are the latest that could be obtained by the Commission.

The bag limits on waterfowl were set at 4 ducks daily and 2 in possession. Of these only one can be a wood duck. The maximum lake geese is 5 daily or in possession, but not more than 2 Canada geese or 2 white-fronted geese or one of each.

The daily bag limit on migratory birds has been set at 25 with cool bag and possession limit at 10. Shooting hours for waterfowl are from one-half hour before sunrise until sunset except that on opening day gunners begin at noon.

Gordon Romanoff was showing a 6 1/4 lb. red fish and a 3 1/4 lb. drum, caught off the railroad bridge last week. The red was O. K. but the drum was not much.

Irwin Olson and Schaeffer of Clermont Harbor, summer residents, while fishing the other day caught several fish and returned with a large coon caught with a rod and reel. That's out of the ordinary, but true, they said.

Ray Gordon and his son, Bill, went fishing last week end. They reported they had more fun than fish.

M. L. Hill has joined the many fishing from the new highway bridge at night. He said he caught a few.

W. L. Fox and E. S. Drake while fishing in the Bayou Cade, area stated they caught several speckles and some flounders. They landed an even four pound speckle and a 3 lb. bull croaker.

Eddie Heath, August Rauxet,

Bay High will be seeking revenge against Demonstration this year. Last year the Demons dropped the Tigers by a 13-7 count. Physically, however, Bay High is in the best shape of the year, extra point.

Lumberton tried to bounce back in the second quarter and pushed over from the three on the last play of the half. But Charles Moran broke through to block the conversion effort, a block that turned out to be the deciding factor of the game.

Lumberton came to Bay St. Louis with 5 wins and one defeat. The Panthers became upset when they saw themselves about to drop their second contest and the game became rough.

Six players were ejected from the game for unnecessary roughness. Bay High, on three consecutive plays, lost a fullback, a quarterback, and a right tackle.

Henry Monti and Charles Moran turned in some fine defensive play. The Tigers had the powerful Lumberton offense to a standstill time after time. Monti, a freshman, and Moran, sophomore, promise Bay High a good defensive unit for years to come.

Phillips made a swell trip over the weekend on Rauxet's boat. The party caught some 400 fish. Plenty of mosquitoes were bagged also, said Eddie.

Michel Parillo and his brother, Joe, of Destrehan, La., with Sylvan Ladner caught 25 speckles on the new highway bridge Tuesday night. They said they were nice fish but not the showing off kind. This night fishing is attracting more and more anglers, trying their luck by the moon.

Teddy Stechman and B. D. Hogue caught some nice green trout one day this week up Jordan River. The fish have been outdoing themselves over the week end. Low tides and cooler weather seem to be the reason.

Pearl and Jordan Rivers are clear and are producing plenty of fresh and salt water fish. Casting and fly fishing with surface baits bring good results. Several speckles were caught on fly rods up Jordan River the past week end.

Lieut. Jimmy McDonald has enjoyed a few fishing trips up Jordan River with his father, C. McDonald, Sr. and C. C., Jr. Jimmy leaves shortly for his new assignment in Georgia.

Logtown grammar school and Kiln split a basketball double-header last week at the Kiln gym. The Kiln girls defeated Logtown with Gracie Lee Shlyou leading the way. But Logtown itself, by defeating the Kiln boys, 21-8.

V. C. J. Seeks Third Victory

Valena C. Jones will be after its third win of the year tonight when it meets Jim Hill High School in Jackson.

The Wildcats, rested after a weeks layoff, will be led by scoring star Allen Wesley, who has figured in both of his team's victories. Wesley will be aided by Bill Nelson at left half.

Valena C. Jones holds both of its wins over Gulfport Community Center.

The probable starting lineup for V. C. J.: ends, Leroy Lion, J. T. Newkirk; tackles, Lawrence Williams, Nolan Reed; guards, Jefferson Roberteau; center, Albert LaRoux; backs, Leroy Reed, William Nelson, Roger James, Allen Wesley.

Mr. and Mrs. J. William Hill attended a benefit horse show recently in Pontchartrou, La.

by Mayfield

Take your choice of roasts—but when ever you select, prepare in the right way for that particular one. Here are two roasts requiring different cooking methods:

ROLLED RIB ROAST—This is a tender cut of beef that requires no basting.
Place with the side up on a rack in a shallow open pan. Season with salt and pepper. Do not cover. Roast in slow oven (325° F.)
allowing 32 to 45 minutes per pound.
If using a meat thermometer, roast at 170° F. for rare, 160° F. for medium,
150° F. for well done.

ROLLED RUMP ROAST—This is a delicious, less tender cut of meat that needs much basting. Brown on rack in a shallow open pan. Season with salt and pepper. Roast in slow oven (325° F.)
allowing 45 minutes per pound. About 45 minutes before meat is done, add prepared popovers, onions and carrots. Season with salt and pepper.
Turn vegetable once or twice. Make gravy from liquid in pan.

ST. STANISLAUS MARKS ITS HOMECOMING

Sunday was homecoming for St. Stanislaus, and there were lumps in a few throats as the band played the alma mater at halftime of the football game. But football was only a part of the celebration. It included a parade and a dance.

COASTING

By ANNE ORLEANS

Flying all the way from Eugene, Oregon, by way of Chicago to arrive in New Orleans at 5:00 A. M. last Saturday was Elaine Dicks Flowerree. At Moisant Airport to meet her were her father and mother, Dr. and Mrs. John F. Dicks. They spent the weekend at Pine Shadows, the Dicks' home on the coast. Elaine's sister, Mrs. George Thomas and her family of Hammond, La., were guests at the same time. Many friends and members of the family came by on Sunday afternoon.

Elaine will be here for ten days, part of the time to be spent in New Orleans with members of the Flowerree, Dicks and Rely families. Bob and the children will really get a lot of news when Elaine gets back home.

Genevieve and Lacy Richeson were at their home near the beach last Sunday. With them were Jeanne and Lionel Adams, Jr., and their baby, cute little Miss Devine.

The B. R. Gregorys' long vacation is over. They came over to their home in Waveland on May 15th and Mr. Gregory went in to New Orleans to work. They returned to that city Sunday but will be back for week-end winter visits and for their usual two weeks' stay at Christmas time.

Visiting Mrs. Ed Carrere last weekend was Miss Anna Mazerat of New Orleans. They are still talking of the wonderful trip they made last summer to the Great ### Lakes country.

With Mr. and Mrs. Howard Perillat, were their daughter, Lee, Bettie Buist and Lucie Claiborne. No one in the swimming pool in this weather but the Perillat place is so lovely that there are always other interesting things to do.

Last Saturday, the Robert Linfields picked one hundred pounds of pecans from their trees in the morning and went out on their boat in the afternoon. This week they are up in Nashville, visiting their daughter, Marjorie, who is studying at Vanderbilt. Where can we buy some of this particular brand of energy?

Mable and Tunk Carter more than busy Saturday and Sunday past when Charlotte and Howard Smith and the three Carter grandchildren, Nan, Lesley and Vail were guests. Before they left for New Orleans, the children were presented with a six weeks old beagle hound. Poor Charlotte.

Alice Wevlin, Fannie Devlin and William Devlin, Jr., had lunch with friends in Waveland on their way back to New Orleans from Gulfport.

The James Rees family, plus two grandchildren, over for the day last Sunday, still bringing things over to their new house. The back porch has been done over and just invites you to stretch out in one of the comfortable chairs and stay a long long time.

Ray and Marie Gordon and Bill, their son, over at their home on the beach last weekend. The men-folks went fishing. More fun than fish this time.

Motoring in to New Orleans for a two day visit were Mrs. W. D. Byers and Mrs. Hamilton Guenard.

MISSISSIPPI'S TELEPHONE LINES

A Philadelphia baby became a telephone shareholder when only half an hour old. His aunt purchased five shares in his name, making him one of the more than a million investors whose money is used to expand and improve telephone facilities throughout the nation.

Who knows? Some of his dollars may have gone to make up the 12 1/2 million dollars we'll spend this year in Mississippi to provide new telephones for those who want them.

The 12,000 new telephones which we expect to install this year will carry Mississippi's total beyond 259,000 telephones—we'll over double the number in service on January 1, 1946.

BUYERS MART

Those shelves undergoing a facelift in the back part of Ramsey's department store have now blossomed into a new gift shop. Its place nicely designed to meet your wedding invitation, graduation, Christmas-is-coming, and even bridge prize needs.

The place had enjoyed a spurge of wedding gift customers just prior to our first visit there and was in the process of re-ordering items which had turned out to be popular with its first customers. Mrs. Ramsey buys, for the most part, at markets in New Orleans, which is to say she probably gets a better look and has a wider selection than just the ordinary week-end shopper rushing out of town to buy what she can look for here.

Prices in the gift shop range from about 50 cents to about ten dollars for individual gifts. You can spend more if you buy whole sets of china or silver.

In the silver line, the shop carries 1847 Rogers Brothers. Right now there is a special price of $79.50 for a complete service for eight in silver plate. This comes in a silver chest. Other patterns than the complete sets shown at Ramsey's can be ordered at the regular prices.

Three patterns in "best" china were displayed this past week. One is a Bavarian make, plain in shape with a narrow silver band. This is called Sharon. A pattern called Lilly also has a silver band. Another Winterling pattern, scalloped at the edge, and patterned with a rose in the center, was the fanciest set of the three shown. The shop has already made a hit with a breakfast type china called California Ivy. It's modern in shape and in addition to the ivy pattern sports a very fetching decoration in a bamboo-effect on cup handles, the hundreds of cream soups and pitchers. A starter set of 16 pieces in this china is $13.75. We actually prefer a similar pattern made by the same company in pink—a color much more versatile than some think. This too has the bamboo type handle. Both of these are in open stock.

To carry out the ivy theme the shop carries a heavy-bottomed beverage glass with an ivy decoration. The price is $2.98 for the glass set of eight.

Now, to get into the few pennies group for the lady who has a bridge prize on her mind, perhaps. Ramsey's new department has a selection of brightly painted pots like a dollar. There are the popular wooden salad bowls at 69 cents each.

An ash tray, which we thought at first was a salad plate, has a particular attractive shape, rather like a saucer. These, at $1.59 each can be used for many purposes.

Favors given to the guests were miniature umbrellas filled with mints.

HEALTH THROUGH CHIROPRACTIC

By Dr. L. A. Nelson
The Doctor
Does Not Heal

It is unfortunate that it takes pain to bring a person into a doctor's office. Some of our most serious diseases cause a progressive destruction to the body without producing pain until the last stages.

The severe chronic diseases progress and cause destruction in organs long before symptoms appear. If the doctor cures the symptoms or pain to disappear, it doesn't mean that the organ is healed. Healing takes time. For example, a fractured bone can be set, but it takes at least eight weeks for it to heal.

Getting rid of pain or removing diseased parts through surgery does not mean that you are well unless the cause of the disease or pain has been removed. The chiropractor locates and removes the cause of disease and allows nature to gradually restore the structure to normal.

Keeping Up

Last week this newspaper's picture page showed the need for a two-way police radio in Hancock County. This has been a project supported by the sheriff's office for some time. But getting the money has been difficult.

Actually, such a radio would save the county money. It would save miles and miles of useless driving by deputies. And it would enable recovery of the loot in many, many petty robberies.

There is nothing this county needs more at this time. And so the next penny spent by the county should be for this police radio. It could be hooked in with the highway patrol, with Harrison County and with the city of Bay St. Louis police. It would provide an effective network which would almost blanket the Gulf Coast.

Up... Up... Up...

Once again business is up in Bay St. Louis - 15 per cent, according to the Mississippi Business Review. The climb has been steady. One reason is obvious: the money goes into stores instead of slot machines.

Real Sportsmanship

One of our neighbors, Dick Mestayer, displayed real sportsmanship in business this week.

A lumber rival in New Orleans went out of business. Did Mr. Mestayer kick his heels with glee? No. He bought an ad in the Times-Picayune to pay tribute to his departing foe.

Businesses should fight one another on the business level. That's the competition which makes our system of economy work. But there are unwritten rules of sportsmanship in these fights, and it's heartening to find a big man who sticks by these rules.

Too often businesses get too much in the scrap, and start chiseling and making false claims in their desperation. Eventually, of course, they're found out - and they die. But meanwhile the public gets it in the neck.

The Right Way

There will be some howls when new tax assessments are announced. But these assessments will have been made by a neutral firm of experts.

No one likes taxes. But no one can deny the need for taxes. So the only fair way to evaluate property is to have some outside expert make a survey.

Too often assessing has become a political football, to reward the friends and battle the enemies.

Hancock County is doing the job the right way.

County Agent Notes

by HOWARD SIMMONS
PECANS

Mowing, disking lightly or raking the space under and around pecan trees will make the harvesting job easier. Nuts should be picked up each four or five days, especially after a light rain or wind. Pecan quality deteriorates when they are left on the ground. Do not let the trees in your pecan grove crowd each other. Thin them when the space between rows becomes less than the spread of branches on one side of the trees. From now until Spring is a good time to thin crowded pecan groves.

December is the time to set new trees. Order your new trees early to get the best nursery stock before they are picked over. For both home and market use, desirable, stunted and Lewis varieties are recommended. They are scab resistant.

COTTON

Close cooperation between the producer and ginner is necessary to produce top quality lint during the final weeks of the harvest season. Here are some hints to the farmer to help insure high quality lint cotton; Supervise closely the remaining harvest and keep trash content to a minimum. Do not harvest cotton after a rain or while wet from dew. Do not mix good and bad cotton; grades are based on the low side of the sample.

Do not mix wet and dry cotton; this can cause over-drying on cotton that is already dry or rough preparation on cotton that is wet. Protect your cotton after it is harvested. Cover with a tarpaulin for hauling to the gin. This keeps out foreign matter and excess moisture. Do not tramp seed cotton.

TRACTOR MAINTENANCE

Giving the farm tractor a few hours attention before winter arrives can save Mississippi farmers both money and future trouble.

If major repairs are needed, get them done during the idle season. Go over the ignition system; drain and flush the radiator; and anti-freeze; drain and flush the transmission, crankcase and final drive assembly, refill with winter-weight lubricants.

Check with the operators manual for your make of tractor for specific winterizing instructions. A thorough cleaning may reveal cracks, that need welding, or missing bolts or nuts and it will also help prevent rust.

AT THE SALE.—Prospective buyers inspect the wares at the Episcopal Church's rummage sale in Bay St. Louis last week.

DAIRY

As a rule milk prices are higher in the fall and winter and lower in May and June. For this reason it is good business and good herd management to breed your cows from around November 1 through January. This will have them to freshen from September through November—the period of higher milk prices.

When they go back on good grazing in the Spring, milk flow will swing upward again. In this way dairymen have an opportunity to handle their cows so that milk production will have two peaks a year.

In a years time, the fall freshened cow, if fed through the winter, will produce more milk in addition to producing much of it when prices are higher.

When breeding your dairy cows, always take advantage of the best bull service available. The best is the cheapest in the long run as the resulting heifers are to be the future producing cows.

PASTURES

November tips: Graze fescue to ten inches. Get land ready for March planting. Keep hogs from rooting up sod pastures. Build fire lanes around all pastures and hay stacks. Graze out all harvested row crop fields.

St. Rose Plans Halloween Ball

Keeps Warm

Three fires here kept city firemen Raymond Bourgeois busy Saturday, but all three were extinguished before any sizeable damage.

The first two blazes occurred on St. John St. in wooded areas, although houses were endangered. One fire was at 11:00 a. m. and the other was at 1 p. m.

The last fire came at 2:30 p. m. in Cedar Point. It took forty minutes to extinguish the blaze.

—Joe Scalfidi, who recently returned from service, was guest of honor at a small party on his 21st birthday Saturday. Out of town guests at the Scalfidi home for the occasion were Miss Alice Braud of Baton Rouge and Bernard Murter of New Orleans.
